Nye, former Representative from Pike County, received from detectives and turned over to the late Samuel J. Vining. former Speaker of the House, in trust, and which was turned over to Hogan today by Vernon Vining, son of the former Speaker. The Attorney-General declared he thought seriously of giving it for the help of destitute miners in Eastern Ohio.

Before Vining's death, which occurred Hollweg, before the German House of several weeks ago at his home in Celina, he had discussed several times with Hogan what disposition should be made of the currency, which he called "nobody's fidence, money." Nye had given it to him after having received it from a detective who tried to bribe Dr. Nye to vote for special legislation.
